

Good evening,

One of the items I discussed at club meeting on Wednesday was for members to keep us posted of any service opportunities that may be available ...after all Service Above Self is what we do and who we are. Well, Robin Donlon spoke up about a need she knew of at One Hopeful Place so I wanted to share with you all. One Hopeful Place is providing shelter during these next couple of nights due to the extreme cold. With that comes a need for some "clean up" the morning after. If you're willing and available here are the morning times you might be interested to serve in:

Friday, 1/8/2021 is forecasted for a low of 33 degrees,

Saturday, 1/9/2021 will have a low of 29 degrees,

Sunday, 1/10/2021 the low is 36 degrees,

Tuesday 1/12 the low is 34 degrees, and

Wednesday 1/13, the low is 39 degrees.

The "clean up" every morning after a cold night is held will start at 7:30am and should be a couple hours I'm told. The location: 1564 Percy L Coleman Rd. Fort Walton Beach, FL 32547

If you are interested in helping with clean up, feel free to stop in during one of these mornings to serve! This certainly provides a good reminder/perspective for me of the less fortunate in our community as I write this from my heated home and warm bed just down the hall.

Thank you Robin for sharing of this need, and thank you for your consideration. Keep the ideas coming!

Sincerely,

Matt
